

TRAIN DAY

Strasburg Museum

440 East King Street, Strasburg, VA 22657

Saturday, October 21, 10 a.m. – 4 p.m.

FREE Admission

The Strasburg Museum is celebrating the Railroad History associated with the museum building and our community.

Come see the model train, visit the train station exhibit, climb aboard the caboose, and see the replica of the Great Train Raid locomotive
PLUS all the other museum displays.

- Did you know railroading was a principle occupation in Strasburg between the time of the Reconstruction Years and World War II?
- Come see some of the tools used in railroading tasks.
- View the “technology” of those days: telegrapher’s key, an alligator-bracket telephone, and passenger arrivals bulletin board, etc.
- In the early 1930’s, two Sunday excursion trains arrived in Strasburg --- one from the East and one from the West.
- See how messages were “delivered” between the passing train engineers and the station agents when there was no scheduled stops at the station in Strasburg.
- So Much MORE to see!
